New, Vibrant Color Display for Maximus™

Ellington, CT – January 12, 2009 - Accu-Time Systems, Inc., a global manufacturer of workforce management, time and attendance, and security access products, today announced the introduction of a new color display for its popular Maximus™ Human Capital Management (HCM) terminal.

The new color display enhances the terminal by highlighting and emphasizing functions in either a time and attendance or an employee-based system. It is similar to an iPod™ display screen in that users can now view complex, color-rich data housed in a compact, rugged enclosure.

The Maximus is part of the ATS Global Series of HCM terminals that feature open programming including Java, Linux, C++, UCS and Python. With its versatile communication portals, the Global Series can be used as an Internet appliance with TC/IP, DHCP, modem, USB and WiFi, among others. Customers can choose from biometrics (finger scan or geometry) proximity (contactless smart cards), bar code and magnetic stripe, since all are supported. The Maximus is ideally suited for areas of high traffic since its durable cast aluminum body can handle high volume transactions. It also features an optional built-in UPS in case of power loss. As with all Global Series products, the Maximus is designed to be environmentally sustainable and features the lowest power requirement in the industry.
